

RUPTURE SEEMS TO BE IMMINENTShould Convention Seat Contested Delegates Colonel's Men Will Rebel.WILL NOT WITHDRAW
FROM THE COLISEUMRoosevelt Will Speed to the Hall in Auto and Lead His Fight in Person.

Chicago, June 20.—Talk of a definite rupture in the convention was insistent in the Roosevelt camp. Reports of this rupture were repeated so frequently as to lend color to the belief of many that they were well grounded.

The use of the term "bolt," however, was carefully avoided by supporters of the former president, whose contention is that should there be a final break they and not their opponents will constitute the genuine Republican convention.

According to these unofficial statements the Roosevelt program will be this: Should the credentials committee uphold the temporary roll adopted by the national committee and the convention in turn accept the report of the credentials committee, thereby finally seating the delegates who Colonel Roosevelt charges have been fraudulently placed on the temporary roll, those of the former president's adherents who are willing to stand with him through thick and thin will withdraw from the convention on the instant.

The plan, as talked of, does not contemplate withdrawals of the Roosevelt delegates from the Coliseum, but the holding of a double headed convention in the same hall.

As soon as word of the final break is flashed to Colonel Roosevelt over his private wire, it was said, he will be whisked by automobile to the convention hall to lead his fight in person. It was regarded as probable that the colonel would not go to the convention except under such circumstances.

Colonel Roosevelt, it was said, has procured enough tickets to the Coliseum to admit him and the members of his immediate party. These tickets, however, would admit him merely as a spectator.

Reports of this plan reached the ears of the authorities in charge of the convention, who said that under no circumstances would they permit the holding of two conventions simultaneously in the Coliseum.

May Call Upon the Police.

The building, they said, was in control of the organization selected by the convention, which would preserve order, even to the point of calling upon the police to eject delegates, alternates or spectators who declined to recognize the authority of the chair.

It was explained that the rupture would come, if at all, after the vote on seating the contested delegates rather than on the vote for presidential nominees, because the Roosevelt faction, by waiting the final vote, would be placed in the position of having acted in conjunction with delegates who they contend were chosen fraudulently and of having broken away because they were beaten.

Colonel Roosevelt has said all along, it was pointed out, that he was making his fight for a principle and not for any man, even himself, and that he had stated in his speech of Monday night that he would not accept under any circumstances a vote to seat the delegates whose seats he disputes, even in his own favor.

In an interview with Governor Deen, Colonel Roosevelt told the governor, in the presence of William Allan White of Kansas, that should the convention seat these delegates in question he would withdraw from any connection with the convention and that two Republican candidates for president would be nominated, with two Republican candidates for governor in every state in the Union, with two Republican candidates for congress in each district and two Republican candidates for every other office.

"Make no mistake," he told the governor. "If these fraudulent delegates are seated we shall walk out of the convention, but not out of the hall."

Colonel Roosevelt's view of his position is known to be that, should he head an independent ticket, he might have a chance to win, at the same time realizing that he is inviting personal disaster.

He believes, however, that it would be a fight worth making and that it would be better for him to go down with colors flying than to submit to being overruled by the aid of votes which he has said would be fraudulent.

The former president is said to be of the opinion that he could take with him the support of a majority of Republicans outside of the extreme Eastern states and increase his strength by substantial accessions from the Democratic party.

MANY CHANGES
IN COMMITTEEMen of Note Who Will Not Answer Present.

LAST APPEARANCE OF KNIGHT

Several Others Who Will Be Retired or Decline to Serve Longer Owing to Changed Conditions in Politics—Victor Roosevelt Small but Prominent—"Handsome Hayward."

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Chicago, June 20.—[Special.]—Many changes will take place in the Republican national committee as a result of the changed conditions in politics. Many of the men who have been familiar figures on the committee for several years past will be retired while others will not seek re-election.

Among those who will not be on that committee hereafter are: Knight of California, Du Pont of Delaware, Borah of Idaho, Lowden of Illinois, New of Indiana, Mulvaney of Kansas, Burnham of Kentucky, Wright of Louisiana, Simpson of Maine, Crane of Massachusetts, Kellogg of Minnesota, Negel of Missouri, Rosewater of Nebraska, Flanagan of Nevada, Murphy of New Jersey, Ward of New York, Duncan of North Carolina, Vorys of Ohio, Cade of Oklahoma, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Capers of South Carolina, Monday of Tennessee, Loose of Utah, Perkins of Washington, Scott of West Virginia, Belber of D. C.

May Be Others.

There may be others, but those mentioned have either declined to serve longer or are not in harmony with the sentiment of their delegations which attended the present convention and will be supplanted. In quite a number of states the present members of the national committee voted against Roosevelt delegates although their state delegations were strong for the colonel. Then there are men voting with the colonel whose state delegations were for Taft. The lines of demarcation will be shown in choosing new members of the committee.

Committee Cautious.

Members of the national committee smarted under the constant assertions that "steam roller" methods were being used in seating Taft delegates. On that account they were more than cautious in allowing plenty of time for hearing the different contests and allowing ample time for discussion. Although a time limit had been set in many cases they granted extension without protest. The Taft men were very generous in giving time but they generally voted the other way after the hearings.

George A. Knight, who says he is making his last appearance in politics, came into prominence in 1904 when he seconded the nomination of Roosevelt for president. He rose when California was called and was greeted with the long "wh-y-ee-yoo" of the old stage coach days of the Pacific coast. There had been many speeches which could not be heard half way across the convention hall, causing cries of "louder" many times. When Knight began his clarion voice rang out and reached every corner of the building.

"Not so loud," came a shout from some far away point, and the big crowd shouted in glee at the joke.

Victor Rosewater is the smallest man connected with the national committee, but as chairman he is the most prominent man most of the time. "Big Steve," Stevenson of Colorado, who has held a proxy and fought for Taft all the time, is the most prominent man in many respects in the committee. He held the proxy of Barker of Alabama, a Taft man. "Big Steve," said Barker, "couldn't vote right any oftener than I could, but he can talk better, so they wanted him."

"Big Steve" also acquired the name of "bell-wether," because, as the Alabama proxy he headed the list and as he voted so voted the Taft members of the committee.

"Handsome Hayward" is what they called the secretary of the national committee and unless he is continued in that position the committee will lose its best looking man. If he can be induced to drop his business the committee will want him again, for he is as efficient as he is good-looking. Hayward was a boy politician in Nebraska, came to the front four years ago and was made secretary of the committee. Naturally he has been loyal to Taft, but he is young enough and western enough to like Roosevelt. He is now a resident of New York.

The Handsome Secretary.

"Handsome Hayward" is what they called the secretary of the national committee and unless he is continued in that position the committee will lose its best looking man. If he can be induced to drop his business the committee will want him again, for he is as efficient as he is good-looking. Hayward was a boy politician in Nebraska, came to the front four years ago and was made secretary of the committee. Naturally he has been loyal to Taft, but he is young enough and western enough to like Roosevelt. He is now a resident of New York.

The Roosevelt men were not only shocked but pained when they saw the Arizona Taft delegation appear with James Thomas Williams, Jr., as one of the adherents of the president. For years Mr. Williams was a Washington newspaper man and it was believed he lived and breathed only for the colonel. Only a few months ago he visited Oyster Bay or the Outlook office and came away loaded with T. R. secrets. How he came to be in the Taft camp is a mystery to his friends. There have been strange doings in the new state of Arizona.

GOVERNOR HADLEY.

Missourian Given Big Ovation
on the Floor of the Convention.

COLONEL'S ONLY COMMENT

No Demonstration Too High a Tribute to Hadley.

Chicago, June 20.—Colonel Roosevelt's only comment in regard to Governor Hadley was made when he heard of the demonstration for the governor at the convention.

"I'm delighted," said he. "No demonstration could be too high a tribute to give Hadley."

The Hadley boom, which crystallized in the demonstration in the convention, was said by supporters of Colonel Roosevelt to have been launched by those of his opponents who desire to defeat him at all costs and are willing to desert President Taft if necessary to accomplish this end.

ROOSEVELT MEN
LEAVE COMMITTEEColonel's Followers Bolt From Credentials Body.

Chicago, June 20.—After bolting once from the credentials committee under orders of Colonel Roosevelt, and being called back by Roosevelt managers to the committee room, all of the Roosevelt members of the credentials committee except R. R. McCormick of Chicago, left again, declaring they were "out for good."

The cause of the bolt was the refusal of the committee to give a full hearing on all contest cases. After the Roosevelt men had left the committee took up the cases, but had not proceeded far when a motion to adjourn was proposed and carried.

Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign manager who had been hurriedly summoned after the first bolt, left with the Roosevelt men.

Francis J. Heney and Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota led the bolt. Before adjourning the committee adopted the amended rules by a vote of 36 to 4.

ROOT BECOMES DARK HORSE

Temporary Chairman Speech Was the Effort of His Life.

Chicago, June 20.—An interesting development was the "dark horse" talk for Elihu Root as temporary chairman was the effort of his life and those who are close to him are saying that, while he is loyal to Taft, he realizes the latter's nomination is at least a difficult proposition and when he made his speech he was inspired by the thought that his own nomination might be won by it.

HAVING TIME OF HIS LIFE

lican Convention.

Chicago, June 20.—Colonel William Jennings Bryan, who is attending the Republican national convention in the role of a reporter, was called upon by a company of Southern people as he sat in the cafe after dinner. As they gathered about him he rose and said: "I'm having the time of my life. It is great fun being in Chicago and watching the doings of the Republican party. I am not here to be seen or to be heard, but to see and hear."

Trinidad, Colo., June 20.—Twelve is the verified death toll of the explosion in the new mine of the Victor-American Fuel company at Hastings. All the bodies were badly burned.

Planning Boom for Hadley.

Chicago, June 20.—The Missouri delegation held a caucus for the purpose, it was reported, of formally launching a boom for Governor Hadley for president. The remarkable demonstration given the Missouri executive in the convention, together with the sudden turn in affairs, was said to have strengthened their belief that the time was ripe for bringing forward a compromise candidate.

able Demonstration for Governor Hadley.

Chicago, June 20.—The Roosevelt forces met their second defeat in the Republican national convention in a session which had for its outstanding feature a remarkable demonstration of nearly an hour's duration in honor of Governor Herbert H. Hadley of Missouri.

All of the Roosevelt delegates joined in this demonstration, while some of the Taft states lent a voice. The ovation to the Missouri executive was quickly interpreted by many of the delegates as the possible forerunner of a boom for Hadley for president. One enthusiastic Pennsylvanian jumped to the stage and called:

"Three cheers for Hadley, the next president of the United States!"

Governor Hadley led the fight on the convention floor to oust ninety-two contested Taft delegates and to seat ninety-two Roosevelt men in their places. The convention finally refused to entertain the motion by a vote of 564 to 510.

This transferred the fight to the committee on credentials, apportioned just before the convention adjourned. When quiet had been restored after the ovation to Governor Hadley and the governor had made a brief statement Mr. Watson moved to refer to the credentials committee the motion to seat the ninety-two Roosevelt delegates.

ILLINOIS EXECUTIVE

OFFERS AMENDMENT.

Governor Deen moved to amend so as to provide that no contested delegates should vote on the membership of the committee on credentials or on its report.

Both motions were applauded. Governor McGovern of Wisconsin seconded the motion of Governor Deen.

Mr. Watson moved to table the motion of Governor Deen.

"No, no," shouted some of the delegates, while some of those in the galleries hissed.

"The motion is not debatable; are you ready for the question?" called Senator Root.

Former Representative Parsons of New York asked that the parliamentary situation be explained by a clerk and this was done.

Delegate Fihn of Pennsylvania demanded a roll call on the motion to table. It was seconded by New Jersey, Missouri and other states and was ordered by states.

The roll was to furnish the second test of the convention and caused much excitement.

MOTION TO TABLE WINS

BY VOTE OF 564 TO 510.

When it was announced that the Taft motion to table had been carried by a vote of 564 to 510 the Taft folk broke into a cheer. The vote on the temporary chairmanship had been 558 for Root to 502 for Governor McGovern.

Prior to announcing the vote Chairman Root said that Governor Hadley had made points of order against any of the ninety-two contested delegates voting and he had fully considered the matter during the calling of the roll. He overruled all the points.

"No man," said Senator Root, "can be permitted to vote on the question of his own right to a seat when it is questioned; but this does not disqualify any delegate on the roll of the convention from voting on another man's right to a seat, or from participating in any other regular business of the convention."

"Otherwise any minority could secure control of a deliberative body by grouping a sufficient number of their opponents in motion to give them control of the uncontested delegates."

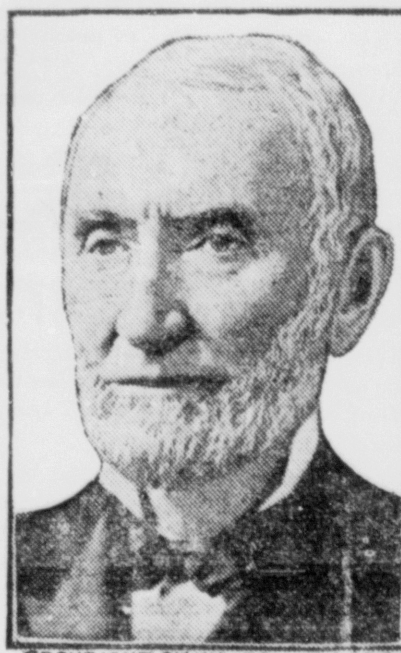

Defeated, the Roosevelt forces made no further moves. Senator Root then put the motion of Mr. Watson that the standing committees be appointed. It was adopted without objection. The names already sent by the state caucuses were not objected to and the committees were announced.

After the convention committees had been announced and meetings for each scheduled the convention adjourned.

Former Speaker Admits That Convention Has Him Guessing.

Washington, June 20.—There is one man in Washington who says he has no idea of what the Chicago convention may do and he differs from all other Republicans in congress by refusing to guess. He is Joseph Gurney Cannon, many times speaker and present at other Republican conventions since the nomination of Abraham Lincoln. He got no ticket to the Chicago convention from his district.

DELEGATES PATCH
UP DIFFERENCESWisconsin Men Will All Stand
by La Follette.

Chicago, June 20.—Their differences apparently buried during a temporary truce followers of Robert M. La Follette presented a united front again, confident that they hold the balance of power in the national convention.

By the terms of a peace compact entered into just before the convention opened the "simon pure" La Follette men and the supporters of Governor Francis E. McGovern agreed to remain united, at least as far as La Follette is concerned, and to vote for the senator in the convention until the end.

A reported interview with A. T. Rogers, national committeeman from Wisconsin, in which he was quoted as saying that Governor McGovern's action in accepting the candidacy for temporary chairman had caused a split between himself and Senator La Follette, was vigorously denied by Mr. Rogers.

Strong Roosevelt pressure is being brought to bear upon the La Follette delegates.

COLONEL SAYS HE'S THROUGH

Urges His Followers to Organize as the Majority.

Chicago, June 20.—"So far as I am concerned," declared Colonel Roosevelt to his delegates and advisers in an address, "I am through. If you are voted down I hope you, the real and lawful majority of the convention, will organize as such and you will do it if you have the courage and loyalty of your convictions."

BRYAN IS AGAINST PARKER

Said to Oppose New Yorker for Temporary Chairman.

Baltimore, June 20.—Opposition developed unexpectedly against the naming of Judge Alton B. Parker of New York for temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention. While a majority of the arrangement committee that is to select the temporary officers of the convention were favorable to the selection of Judge Parker it became known at informal conferences of the committee members that friends of William J. Bryan had come out against Judge Parker's selection and that a new choice might have to be made.

The statement was made by those opposed to Judge Parker's selection that he was a conservative and that as this was a progressive campaign a progressive man should be named for the temporary chairmanship to make the keynote speech.

White Plains, N. Y., June 20.—Evelyn Thaw, as witness for the state in its efforts to keep her husband, Harry K. Thaw, in the Matteawan asylum, repeated in a crowded courtroom here her story of the series of sensations which culminated in Thaw's murder of Stanford White. Her testimony covered her relations with Thaw from the time, ten years ago, when he first sought acquaintance with her as a chorus girl, his proposal of marriage three years later, his rage when she repeated her story of White, her marriage to Thaw, his constant allusions to White and the shooting of White on the Madison Square Garden roof.

New York, June 20.—Charles W. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, spoke strongly in favor of the move recently launched by non-Tammany Democrats here to further the candidacy of Mayor William J. Gaynor for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"That is the kind of a man we want—a man who can get independent strength as well as the support of the regular organization," said Mr. Murphy.

United States Senator James O'Govern, who is expected to be temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention, would not indicate his preference for the presidential nomination, declaring that he had refrained from pledging himself to any candidate "largely because the New York delegation is uninstructed."

ANOTHER STORM BREWING

Attempt to Reduce Representation
From Southern States.

Chicago, June 20.—With the submission of a minority report signed by eleven members of the rules committee the question of reducing Southern representation in Republican national conventions will be put squarely up to the convention. The announcement was made by W. H. Coleman, the member from Pennsylvania, whose resolution providing for such reduction had been tabled by the committee.

Confidently Asserts Taft Will Be Nominated to Succeed Himself.DECLARES ROOSEVELT FORCES ARE WHIPPEDCampaign Manager Believes the Colonel Will Suffer Continued Losses.

Chicago, June 20.—At Taft headquarters a general atmosphere of satisfaction and relief greeted the swarms of delegates who crowded the ante-rooms. Director McKinley and his staff presented an it's all over but the shouting attitude and confidently asserted that the vote of 564 to 510 against the Roosevelt forces in the convention showed conclusively that Taft will be renominated.

They claimed that Roosevelt would lose on the nomination roll call forty-six of the 510 votes he had. They claimed that Wisconsin's twenty-six votes, North Dakota's ten and the ten Cummins votes from Iowa would desert the Roosevelt column on any decisive vote. From this they argued that the real Roosevelt strength in the convention was at the most 464 votes.

"President Taft's renomination is a certainty," said Director McKinley. "Each succeeding roll call from now on will show steady losses from the Roosevelt column and gains for Taft."

A statement was issued by McKinley in which he said:

"President Taft will be renominated by the national Republican convention now in session in Chicago. Theodore Roosevelt has been eliminated as a candidate before the convention. Two test votes have demonstrated that he cannot be nominated. The delegates have repudiated his third term pretensions. His managers have resorted to every known method of political strategy, but without success. They have attempted combinations with other candidates, they have adroitly presented unfair and revolutionary plans of procedure under the pretense of honesty, and they have endeavored by every means to make Taft delegates break their solemn pledge and instructions. In the face of these desperate efforts the Taft column has steadily grown."

Now Seeking Another Leader.

"The Roosevelt followers, knowing that their candidate can never get enough votes to give him a majority of the convention, are now seeking in hopeless and discouraged fashion for another leader. Their search will be in vain. President Taft's demonstrated majority in the convention represents delegates who have come to Chicago determined to renominate him and they will not be swerved from that purpose."

"They have shown their loyalty and devotion to the president upon two test votes and their solidity was not in the least affected by a deliberate but futile attempt to stampede the convention through a carefully planned demonstration."

"Roosevelt not only lost in votes, but his delegates indulged in forty minutes of continuous cheering for Governor Hadley of Missouri, one of his campaign managers, showing a decided tendency to desert the Roosevelt standard."

"Roosevelt's repeated threat to bolt has not materialized and statements are made by many of his leaders that, should a bolt be attempted, it will not be generally participated in."

"The solidarity of President Taft's lines and the wavering Roosevelt forces tell their own story of victory for the president and the bursting of the 'Roosevelt bubble.'"

The Taft leaders, while outwardly ridiculing talk of a Roosevelt bolt, privately admitted that the colonel, when it becomes apparent, as they say it will, that the credentials committee will not interfere materially with the Taft delegates selected by the national committee, will undoubtedly order his followers out of the convention.

But the Taft leaders declare that the real leaders of the Roosevelt movement will under no circumstances go to the extent of holding a stump convention to give Roosevelt an independent nomination.

A general congratulations meeting was held in the Taft public reception room and the leaders dropped in from their labors on the various convention committees to felicitate each other.

BRAINERD BEATS LITTLE FALLS

An Exciting Ninth Inning Rally By the Down River Team Which Gives Brainerd Close Race

DARKNESS INTERFERED

Lyle Pitched for Brainerd and Only Gave Away in the Last Half of the Ninth Inning

For seven innings Brainerd held Little Falls down to a score of ciphers while the locals rolled up one run in the first, a run in the sixth and four runs in the seventh innings.

Lyle pitched superb ball and Little Falls could not connect with his curves. The game started about 5:45 at the Koering grounds and was witnessed by large numbers of the delegates, the game having been announced at the meeting of the state federation.

In Little Falls' last half of the ninth the trouble started. Dusk was making catching and straight throwing a difficulty. With these odds in its favor Little Falls fell on the ball and hammered it over the lot. Grei-sch and Howard scored. Stoll hit safe. Dominick was struck out. Lauerman's bingle was fumbled by the second baseman and Roderick threw high to first. Another high drive settled near third base and Templeton raked it in although the ball was spinning so he could hardly see it as he faced the grand stand. Four runs had crossed the plate and there seemed to be no let up. With the score 5 to 6 a Little Falls man tried to make home while the ball was being returned to Pitcher Lyle. Lyle took three jumps from his mound and ran down the man half way to the home plate and the agony was over, Brainerd winning 6 to 5.

These last scores would have never been made had it not been growing dark and making it extremely hard to field a ball or catch one.

Brainerd Blanked

It is with a feeling of sadness that these lines are chronicled for on Wednesday evening Brainerd was blanked when it played the Royalton team, or what may be better termed the Royalton-Little Falls-St. Paul-Minneapolis-Etc. baseball nine.

Royalton certainly had on hand the best, the snappiest team which ever played on Brainerd grounds. They were ballplayers, every one of them and they were heavy men with the bat. Drechko pitched for the visitors and Kinkel was at the receiving end.

For Brainerd, Alderman was in the box. "Happy" managed to stay on the lid five innings until the awful sixth when Royalton exploded its fireworks and tore through Brainerd to the extent of five runs. The carnage was something awful. Fields missed bingles, batters swiped up everything offered and it was a field day for the Royalton et al combination.

Brainerd strained every effort to set up some decent figures alongside the onerous set of ciphers which sared down from the score board.
The seventh yielded no runs for either side. In the eighth, freely hitting Alderman, three more runs crossed the plate.

Brainerd came to bat in the ninth.
Two men were put out and with the crowd cheering like wild, three bascs were filled by men ho had found and hit Drechko. Templeton came to bat and a home run at this time meant four runs, but there was no home run. We got licked, 8 to 0.

Hope eternal, however, springs in the breasts of the Brainerd fans. As one kid rooter said: "They beat us once, but they can't do it again."

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs

After a frightful coughing spell a man in Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs broken. What agony Dr.
King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs.
"I feel sure its a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Ette Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption today, if I had not used this great remedy." Its guaranteed to satisfy, and you can get a free trial bottle or 50-cent or $1.00 size at all druggists.

Notice

quired by ordinance 195, to pay a license of $1.00 for male and $2.00

Penalty for violations of this ordinance is $5 to $10 or not exceeding 10 days in city jail.

Makes the Nation Gasp

The awful list of injuries on a Fourth of July staggers humanity.

thys and piles. 25c at all druggists.

SPOKE HIS OWN DOOM.

In Spite of His Caution an Innocent Remark Condemned Him.

The father of Gueau de Reverseaux had been a distinguished lawyer, and through his influence he held important offices under the government.
When the revolution began he gave up his office at La Rochelle and retired to Chartres.

From the time that the revolution began Gueau de Reverseaux devoted his attention exclusively to preserving his own safety. He wrote no letters.
He would receive no letters. He saw no visitors and paid no visits. He spoke to no person and allowed no one to come near him. It would have been impossible to be more prudent than he was.

However, he wanted some sheds built on his farm near Chartres and ventured to consult a carpenter. The carpenter told him that he could not undertake the work immediately, as Gueau de Reverseaux wished, because most of his workmen were drafted to join the army at once.

Gueau de Reverseaux replied: "The workmen need not go. They can send substitutes."

This remark was heard by the workmen, but only the first phrase made any impression on them. They reported everywhere that M. Gueau de Reverseaux, who must be good authority, had said that they need not go. The news went to headquarters that Gueau de Reverseaux declared that the drafted workmen need not obey the government. This was considered to be conspiracy, and he was condemned to death and executed.

CIVIC & COMMERCE DELEGATION DUE

Special Train Carrying Minneapolis Business Men on Their Trade Extension Tour

AT BRAINERD FRIDAY, JUNE 21

Will be the Guests of the Brainerd Commercial Club When They Arrive in the Evening

Traveling in a special train, the Civic and Commerce trade extension excursion of Minneapolis business men will arrive in Brainerd Friday evening, where they will be entertained in a royal manner by the Brainerd Commercial club.

While this excursion will be held primarily for the purpose of extending the field of Minneapolis' commercial activity the committee in charge realized that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" and it has therefore engaged the First Regiment band to accompany the party and music will be on tap for every occasion.

The tour embraced visits at Staples, Wadena, Detroit, Moorhead, Crookston, Warren, Argyle, Stephen, Hallock, Bemidji, International Falls where the Northern Minnesota Development association holds its first session this morning, thence to Northome, Blackduck, Cass Lake, Walker, Akeley, Park Rapids and on to Brainerd.

The meeting at the Commercial club will not be primarily for club members alone. All business men are invited to attend the gathering to get acquainted with the Minneapolis men. The train arrives at eight o'clock in the evening and those who wish may meet the gentlemen and act as an escort on their way to the club rooms.

CLOSING WORK OF FEDERATION

Resolutions as Adopted at the Closing Session of State Federation of Labor

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS PROGRAM

Delegates Unanimous in Saying That Brainerd Was An Ideal Convention City

The Minnesota State Federation of Labor closed its session at 12:30 Wednesday afternoon and the 30th annual convention is now history. The gathering was harmonious and whatever matters were presented were argued out fairly and squarely on the convention floor.

The convention allowed full and free access to its minutes, to every record and resolution and its officers are to be commended for the willingness with which they answered all questions.

The Minnesota State Federation of Labor does its business in the open. It is a constructive force in the affairs of organized labor. It believes in building up things, in improving the relations between employers and employees. In the course of debate on many propositions both sides would be taken up and reviewed. No greater commendation can be given any body of men than by saying they aimed to do their duty, they tried to be square to both sides in labor matters.

And when you asked a delegate how he enjoyed himself, the answer invariably was: "Fine! Couldn't be better. Say, we fellows will see what we can do about coming to Brainerd again."

Not a word of complaint was heard anywhere. As one delegate said: "You people treated us right. You didn't raise prices on us as some of these convention towns do and we appreciated it and spent a lot of money. I tell you Brainerd is all right and we certainly enjoyed every minute of our time."

After the convention numerous fishing parties were formed and with some the fish are biting so good that they are fishing still and the delegates will probably reach home the end of the week. Others made side trips to the Cuyuna range towns and viewed the mining and exploration work.

In the evening the "Union Label" pictures were thrown on a screen placed near the Y. M. C. A. building and a large crowd filled the entire street and viewed the moving pictures. The machine was operated by William Ives who is employed by the United Union Label league of Minneapolis. President E. G. Hall, of the state federation, explained many of the pictures.

"The Cry of the Children" was a pathetic series of pictures, showing the devastation wrought by a strike, the cry of the little ones when starvation faced them, the awful results of child labor and was a powerful appeal for the enactment and enforcing of child labor laws.

At the Wednesday morning session Organizer Chubbuck, of the A. F. of L. addressed the convention. He is an organizer of the fifth district and read his report on the work of organization as accomplished during the past year. He mentioned the unions and central bodies he had organized. He urged that enthusiasm be kept up in the small towns and that it was the duty of all unions to aid the new ones.

Chairman Larviere read his report on certain resolutions. A resolution was adopted to do away with the dual organizations of electricians and amalgamate them.

Resolutions were adopted that efforts be made to have the maintenance of way unions affiliate with the American Federation of Labor; that strong efforts be made to organize the hod carriers; that all unions of allied crafts in one industry be federated; amendments to the state constitution striking out provision placing a limit of 50,000 signers to secure the initiative and placing a limit of 60,000 signers to secure the referendum, as presented at last convention of the State Federation of Labor; urging legislation to impose a penalty for the unlawful use of the union label, the penalty for violation to be that of a gross misdemeanor; that the boiler inspector law be referred to the incoming council; recommending a program concerning the fight against tuberculosis which embraced the following:

That all advanced cases of this disease should be provided with beds in state aided institutions. That these asylums should be near the homes of the people and should consequently be very numerous. That they should be maintained by the counties, municipalities or districts liberally assisted by funds from the state and under state supervision and control. That every state aided institution shall maintain a free dispensary and have visiting nurses on its staff. That the state sanatorium should be completed by the addition of kitchen, laundry, dining room, amusement hall and employees' home. That it should be enlarged from year to year until it can accommodate as many incipient cases as the county institutions desire to transfer to it, that registration of all cases be enforced. That a state lecturer on tuberculosis be provided for, who shall carry on an active campaign of education throughout the state. That milk from herds not tested with tuberculum shall not be sold. That open-air schools shall be provided in the cities for weakly and anaemic children.

Resolutions adopted recording objections to methods used by police officers of Los Angeles, Cal., towards organized labor. Pledged support to striking pressmen at Chicago. Urged propaganda to purchase union label garments to aid garment workers, to purchase moving pictures to aid in campaign of union label. Favored abolishing basement bakeries also establishing cooperative bakeries. To advance the interests of union labor by purchasing only such brands of tobacco as bore the union label.

In conclusion resolutions were adopted thanking Judge Sanborn, Dr. Hemstead, H. W. Linnemann, Mayor Dunn, Rev. Lowrie, Rev. O'Mahoney, Carl Zapffe, automobile owners, Schlange & Coleman, Women's Union Label league, press of the city and especially the Brainerd Dispatch, the local committee on arrangements and to all others who may have aided in the success of the convention and the personal welfare of the delegates. All assisted in making the 30th annual convention of this federation one of the most successful in its history and their stay in this beautiful and prosperous city so pleasant that the reception and entertainment here will be long remembered.

KEEP YOUR LIBRARY OPEN EVERY DAY

Said Miss Clara Baldwin, Secretary State Library Commission in Lecture This Morning

THE LIBRARY BOARD ATTENDED

"If Short on Funds Put the Matter Before the People to Impose a Half Mill Tax"

"Keep your library open every day," said Miss Clara Baldwin, the secretary of the state library commission, in her address at the opera house this morning.

"Do not let other towns think that Brainerd's library board is not active. And if you have not the funds for that purpose, put the matter squarely before the people. Have your annual statements published. Let the people know what it costs to conduct the institution."

"Let the people know conditions and I am sure there will be no objection to having a half mill tax imposed so that the library may be open every day, used every day and of benefit all the time."

The library board was in attendance at the lecture and Prof. J. A. Wilson explained the finances of the board, how things had been managed economically and within the allowance, how much had been spent for repairs and that the institution was being managed as well as possible with the limited funds on hand.

"Fairmont, a small town in this state and much smaller than Brainerd," said Miss Baldwin, "has its library open every day." Miss Baldwin also spoke on "Books For Children."

Last evening Miss Harriet Hetland, of the Minneapolis school of music, oratory and dramatic art, gave a dramatic recital, rendering "Dawn of a Tomorrow." Her voice was clear and every word was plainly heard. She speaks with a naturalness which carries conviction, and the audience followed with interest every phase of the little play which she unfolded.

This afternoon Mrs. Elizabeth Atwood, of St. Cloud, speaks on "Women's Clubs and Civic Betterment." Mrs. Maurice I. Flagg explains the industrial art exhibit. Mrs. Elizabeth Atwood also speaks on "The Drama and the Dramatic League."

In the evening Maurice I. Flagg, director of the Minnesota State Art society, will give an illustrated lecture on "Art in Common Things." Mr. Flagg has for this lecture the finest collection of slides to be found anywhere.

RESIGNS PASTORATE

Rev. W. J. Horner of the Peoples Congregational Church, to Leave Brainerd

Rev. W. J. Horner, pastor of the Peoples Congregational church, resigned his pastorate last Sunday, his resignation to take effect on June 30. He leaves Brainerd to go to Detroit, Mich., to accompany his mother who returns to her home in Belfast, Ireland.

His many friends wish them a pleasant voyage. Rev. Horner has been a power in developing the best thought and enthusiasm in his pastorate, has made many converts and his going away is a loss to Northeast Brainerd, where he labored so faithfully and the entire city of Brainerd.

LAWN MOWERS

So light running that your "youngest" can now mow the lawn without help.

KEEN KUTTER Mowers are fast cutting and easy running because of the double gear and the fine ball bearings. A KEEN KUTTER will last longer than any mower on the market and is easily kept keen and sharp. To sharpen, merely reverse the blades and they sharpen themselves. A cheap mower will cost more in the end on account of repairs, will not do the work properly and will require twice as much labor.

Prices, $6.75 to $15.00.
Other Mowers from $3.00 up.

Democratic National Convention In Baltimore

None of the Presidential Candidates Will Have Enough Votes at Outset.

Second Highest In the Ballot—ing May Be Nominated For Vice President.

ATENDANCE at the Democratic national convention of 1912 in Baltimore will go down as the largest in the history of the Democratic party. This is due to the uncertainty as to the outcome of the convention and the fact that there is a population of 15,000,000 within a few hours' ride of Baltimore.

The committee on arrangements had its hands full in assigning the tickets. There were about 10,000 tickets to be distributed, and it was estimated that nearly 200,000 requests had been received. The convention hall has a seating capacity of 15,000, or 4,000 more than could be accommodated at the Republican national convention in Chicago. Season tickets were distributed to members of the national committee and to delegates, and these could be exchanged for eight session tickets. Through this system party leaders were able to grant many more ates—Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri, Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio and Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama.

While it is regarded as likely that one of the candidates already active in the field will receive the nomination, there is yet a possibility of a dead lock which might result in a "dark horse" being chosen. In such event Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York is regarded as the most likely to be chosen, while William Jennings Bryan is always a possibility.

The Indiana votes and the North Dakota votes, it is generally supposed, would go to Harmon if it is seen that the Ohio governor has a chance of being nominated. The Connecticut vote would be divided after the compulsory vote for Baldwin. A newspaper poll of the fourteen Connecticut votes shows seven for Bryan, six for Clark and one for Underwood as the second choice of the delegates.

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri will nominate Clark, ex-Judge John W. Wescott of Camden, N. J., will present Wilson's name, and M. A. Daugherty of Lancaster, O., and Representa-requests from their constituents than if they had only season or daily tickets for distribution.

The Democrats were especially fortunate in the matter of contests, very few of which had been filed. There were contests from the Philippine Islands, Alaska, Porto Rico and the District of Columbia. Uncle Sam's possessions in the far east have never been permitted to participate in a Democratic national convention. Because of the anti-imperialism issue of 1900 the Philippine delegates were barred and the precedent established then was adhered to in 1904 and 1908. Through an error in issuing the call this year, the Philippine Islands were not eliminated, and two sets of delegates were chosen.

It was well known, of course, that no candidate would go into the convention with even a majority of the delegates, whereas a two-thirds was necessary to nominate. For that reason the outcome could not be forecasted. Some Democrats think that the two-thirds rule is un-Democratic and that it ought to be changed, and until very recently there were Democrats ready to lead a movement to have the rule abrogated so that future conventions should follow the course of conventions of the other party.

Credentials were received for three women delegates from Colorado, and one or two other women delegates were sent by other western states.

Because of the many contests to be decided, it was necessary for the Republican national committee to gather at Chicago fully two weeks before the convention date. Not so with the Democrats. While there were more candidates seeking the presidential nomination on the Democratic side, there was not the bitterness displayed between them or their respective followers as there was on the Republican side, and it was necessary for the Democratic national committee to gather in Baltimore only four or five days in advance of the convention.

The Baltimore convention may run for four or five days. The business might be got over within three days, but it must be remembered that the hotel keepers and merchants put up $100,000 for the convention and that they expect a reasonable opportunity to get this back in the visitors.

Present plans, which are, of course, tentative, call for adjournment after the convention officers have been chosen on the opening day and the usual committees appointed. The second day is to be given over to the reports of these committees and the discussion and adoption of the platform. Then will come the nominations. The multiplicity of candidates makes it certain that a number of ballots will be necessary, and the nominee may not be determined at a single day's session.

The first ballot or two are expected to dispose of the "favorite sons" candidates. This will eliminate Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, Governor Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut and Governor John Burke of North Dakota. Then will come the test of strength between the leading candi-tive J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama will perform similar offices for Harmon and Underwood, respectively.

There is a disposition among leaders of the party to make an effort to induce the presidential candidate who gets the second highest number of votes to accept the nomination for vice president—for instance, if Clark should be named for president Wilson to take second place, or vice versa, and so on through the list. Through such a combination it is the leaders' idea to effect more complete harmony and strength for the whole ticket.

While a change of 1,000,000 votes will be required to elect a Democratic president in November next, the party chiefs declare that this number will be easily forthcoming because of the unity in their own ranks and the disturbed condition of the Republicans.

There is talk of a new office in the Democratic national committee to be known as chairman of the campaign committee, whose duty it will be to work with the chairman of the national committee, of which he may or may not be a member. If the office is established the incumbent will be named by the presidential nominee after a conference with the new national committee members. The national committee chairman, however, will continue in general charge of the campaign. Senator O'Gorman's name is being discussed for the new position.

Who He Was.

A traveler saw a woman take a man by the collar, yank him up the steps into a railroad car, jam him down into a seat, pile up a valise and two big brown baskets with loose covers and long handles at his feet and say:

"Now, sit there until I help Mary Jane on the car, and don't move till I come back."

When the woman reached the door the traveler said to her:

"Is that man your husband?"

"Naw!" roared the woman. "He's my daughter's husband, and she hasn't spirit enough to say her soul is her own."

Wouldn't Work Nowadays.

The Egyptians had a very remarkable ordinance to prevent persons from borrowing imprudently. An Egyptian was not permitted to borrow without giving to his creditors in pledge the body of his father. It was deemed both an impurity and an infamy not to redeem so sacred a pledge. A person who died without discharging that duty was deprived of the customary honors paid to the dead.

POTTED GHOSTS.

An African Tribe's Method of Driving Away Sickness.

One of the most curious and interesting of African tribes are the Bangoro, or cow people, of Uganda, who are powerful clansmen and whose wealth, religion and health are all connected with cows. It is degrading for any member of the tribe to dig, so milk and flesh are their staple food. Their bravery is very great. The only beast they fear is the leopard. Their chief weapon is a long stick, and armed with this, they go out to meet a lion that is trying to get at their precious cattle and drive him away by the simple process of thrashing him.

Though they are brave, they are in veteran thieves and very subtle in their methods of carrying out their thefts and concealing their guilt by lies. Indeed, one of their favorite mottoes is, "Keep a grave face even though you laugh behind your hand."

When sickness comes to these people they believe that it is one of their enemies, the ghosts, that is attacking them, so they proceed to capture him. Ghosts like hot cooked meat, so meat is cooked in a large pot near the dwelling where the ghost is at work. As soon as the savor of the food reaches the dwelling the evil spirit greedily enters the pot and is at once sealed up. This potted ghost is then taken away from the village and buried, the spot being marked by a ghost shrine.

The position of rest for these people is a half sitting posture, and when they are holding a council they will remain in this posture as long as ten hours. When they die it is in this resting position that they are buried. If it should be the king who dies his successor is generally selected by the drastic process of civil war.

PLUCK OF A DEER.

A Big Buck That Was More Than a Match For a Cougar.

It seems to be generally assumed that wild animals of different species keep the peace, but now and then the experience of some woodsman strikingly disproves this peaceful view of forest life.

Two sportsmen made a trip to the Kettle river region, in the state of Washington, and in the course of the shooting witnessed a rare occurrence.

They had been on the trail of a large buck for some time and, as it chanced, came in sight of him at the very moment when a cougar launched himself upon the buck from the limb of a tree. The cougar landed squarely on the buck's shoulders, almost throwing him to the ground.

The buck quickly recovered and, throwing back his head, drove two prongs of his antlers into the cougar's body and with a swing forward threw him to the ground. Leaping backward, he then waited with lowered head for a second attack.

With a yell of rage and pain the cougar sprang upon him. He might as well have leaped against an array of bayonets, for he was caught on the buck's antlers and hurled several feet into the air.

The instant he struck the ground the buck was upon him, striking savagely with his forefeet, which cut like knife blades, and driving his antlers again and again into his body.

Finally they separated, and the cougar crawled forward for the final struggle. The deer was wounded, but still in excellent fighting trim. The hunters interfered. One of them walked up to the cougar and shot it through the heart.—Exchange.

A DUEL IN BALLOONS.

Curious Aerial Battle Fought by Two Frenchmen In 1808.

In this day of the development in aeronautics it may be interesting to recall the first duel that was ever fought in the air. It took place in 1808 and, as might have been expected, occurred in France. M. de Grandpre and M. le Pique had a quarrel arising out of jealousy concerning a lady engaged in the Imperial Opera.

They agreed to fight a duel to settle their respective claims, and in order that the heat of angry passion should not interfere with the polished elegance of the proceeding they postponed the duel for a month, the lady agreeing to bestow her smiles on the survivor. The duelists were to fight in the air.

Two balloons were constructed exactly alike. On the day of the duel M. de Grandpre and his second entered the car of one balloon, M. le Pique and his second the other. This was in the garden of the Tuilleries, amid a big crowd of spectators. The men were to fire, not at each other, but at each other's balloon, in order to bring them down by the escape of gas. As pistols would hardly have served for this purpose, each aeronaut took a blunderbuss in his car.

At a given signal the ropes holding the balloons were cut, and up they went into the air. The wind was nearly moderate and kept the balloons in their respective positions, about eighty yards apart. When about half a mile up in the air the preconcerted signal for firing was given. M. le Pique fired, but missed. M. de Grandpre fired and sent a ball through M. le Pique's balloon. The balloon collapsed, the car descended with frightful rapidity, and M. le Pique and his second were dashed to pieces.

De Grandpre continued his ascent and terminated his aerial voyage at a distance of seven leagues from Paris. History does not state whether he was rewarded by the hand of the lady for whose sake the duel had been fought.—New York Herald.

Sea Level and Tides at Panama.

The average sea level of the Pacific ocean and the Caribbean sea, at opposite sides of the Isthmus of Panama, is the same. This is the mean or average level of the two waters during all days of the year. But there is a great difference in tides. The Caribbean tides are faint, rarely exceeding two feet, while the tides in the Pacific at Panama are not pacific, for they at times rise ten feet and sink ten feet below normal undisturbed sea level. Without tide locks, currents would alternately rush in the canal from south to north entering, and from north to south escaping.—New York American.

STAMPEDES ARE THINGS OF PAST

Idle to Talk About One Occurring at Chicago.

DELEGATES ARE DETERMINED

Supporters of Both Taft and Roosevelt Are Out to Nominate Chiefs in Regulation Manner—Bitterness Between the Rival Factions—Why Lodge Is Not Attending Convention.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Chicago, June 19.—[Special.]—Can a convention be stampeded? That question has often been asked during the past few days and the general conclusion is that stampedes are a thing of the past. In 1896 it may be said that the Democratic convention was stampeded for Bryan, but that is not the case. It was captured by him on the fifth ballot, largely on account of the great speech he had made for silver. But the Democrats did not have any available man at that time. In 1904 Bryan spoke at the St. Louis convention and the galleries rose tier upon tier and applauded him to the echo, but two-thirds of the delegates, enough to nominate Parker, sat silent and when the time came made the nomination which Bryan opposed.

When men come to the convention as determined as the supporters of Taft and Roosevelt seem to be to nominate their own man and defeat the rival at all hazards it seems idle to talk about a stampede.

Bitterness Exemplified.

The bitterness which exists between rival factions in the Republican party is exemplified by the open assertions by so many Republicans that they would prefer to do down to defeat with Taft than to victory with Roosevelt. "I would rather have any Democrat than Roosevelt," is an expression that has been heard from a large number of prominent Republicans. It is also evident that many Roosevelt men feel the same way about Taft and do not hesitate to say so. No wonder the Democrats have been looking on with great interest while the G. O. P. performs.

Absence of Lodge.

The absence of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts at this convention is marked. He has twice been permanent chairman of the conventions, twice on the committee on resolutions, and has always been prominent in the affairs of national conventions. Four years ago he started the greatest demonstration of the convention by saying that "Theodore Roosevelt was the most hated and best liked man in the country." He is not here because he cannot stand for Roosevelt's radical utterances and will not oppose his old friend.

Federal Office Holders.

Most of the southern contests were based on the claim that the federal office holders in the southern states have absolute control of the machinery and by questionable methods dominate the shell of the party which exists in those states. It is generally recognized that the party comes to life only once in four years when there is a national convention. Seldom are nominations made in off years for congress in the states where these contests are so numerous.

Now there is no reason why federal office holders do not have as much right in politics as other men, but the contestants claim that they should not run the party. It was also demonstrated that many of the contestants who so strongly denounced the office holders now in control were themselves officers holders at one time, but failed to retain their positions.

As one man from the South put it: "My opponent has always worked with my organization as long as he was a postmaster. When he was turned out he became a reformer and insurgent and denounces the federal office holders in politics."

An Impossibility.

Manager Dixon of the Roosevelt forces asserted that Senator Crane had been overheard to say to Stevenson of Colorado, that a certain contest ought to be decided in favor of Roosevelt and "Big Steve" would not consent, the Taft men voting for their side unanimously. "Big Steve" said the whole thing was an impossibility. "Who can imagine," he said, "of old Pussy-foot Crane saying anything to anybody that any other person could overhear?" And that is a high tribute to the Massachusetts senator's secretive methods. He always whispers in the ear of the man he talks to.

Lowden Ready to Quit.

Former Congressman Frank Lowden is serving for the last time as a member of the national committee for Illinois and is ready to quit politics. Something came up about the number of proxies who were serving on the committee. "Why in the world," said Lowden, "any man should want a proxy to work ten or twelve hours on that committee is more than I can understand. Why, it is bad enough for a man who is compelled to work there without volunteering for the job."

Loose Loses.

That must have been a put up job, that story about the Utah member of the National committee losing a thousand dollars, by theft while in Chicago. His name is C. E. Loose. "Loose loses a thousand!" Good head line, what?

Young America.

"You may be president some day, my boy," said the patronizing old gentleman.

"Great Scott!" replied the sadly flippant youth. "You're not trying to pick dark horses that far ahead, are you?"—Washington Star.

Knows Better Now.

Teacher—Tommy, you should have known better than to fight with that Williams boy. Tommy—I know, ma'am, but I thought I could lick him.—Hearth and Home.
